SPLENDID OFFERS.

It is well known that the regular subscription to Demorest's Monthly Magazine is $3. That we may bring our journal to every house in this place, we have made arrangements by which we are enabled to send the PEOPLE'S PRESS and DEMOREST'S MONTHLY for $3 50.

DEMOREST'S ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY combines the most useful, comprehensive and complete Magazine now issued. It employs only first-class writers in all its numerous departments, including Music, Stories, Poetry, Household Matters, Architecture, and Gardening; and its Fashions are unquestionably far ahead of all others, both for beauty and originality. Demorest's Monthly for handsome typography, high-toned literature, and first-class illustrations, fully entitles it to the claim of being the model Parlor Magazine of America.

We will club the People's Press with the following Magazines and illustrated papers at the annexed reduced rates. This is a good opportunity to secure the best periodical literature of the country.

THE PEOPLE'S PRESS AND

Harper's Weekly, Monthly, and Bazaar each $5
Atlantic Monthly, $5. Every Saturday, $5 50
Appleton's Journal $5, Scribner's Mag. $4 50
Godey's Lady's Book, $4. Peterson's Mag. $3 50.
Oliver Optic, $3 50. Our Young Folks, $3 50.
Galaxy, $5.

Harper's Periodicals are all first class, and are highly appreciated. The attractions for 1871 are fully up to, if not superior to the past.

The Atlantic Monthly is unsurpassed in its style of literature. It is one of the most entertaining magazines on our table.

Every Saturday is an elegantly illustrated newspaper, and its literary contents are unexceptionable.

Appleton's Journal, a literary weekly, has established a reputation for beauty of typography and its excellent illustrations. Several recent numbers have been illustrated with scenes in Western North Carolina and Virginia.

Scribner's Monthly is the successor of Putnam and Hours at Home. It is well illustrated, and certainly combines the excellencies of its able predecessors. We greet its monthly appearance with pleasure.

The Galaxy is among our most valued exchanges. Its literary and political articles are always entertaining, while the genial humor of Don Piatt gives a zest to the whole.

Godey's Lady's Book is a household word in this community.

Peterson enjoys a well earned reputation.

Our Young Folks, is an excellent monthly for youthful readers.

Oliver Optic is one of the best magazines for the rising generation.

THE SILVER COLLAR.

The Dugoine Brothers, as they were called, were small farmers residing about forty miles west of Montreal. The father, at the time of his death, had left each of his sons a small farm of eighty acres in the little village of Grand Pre.

Francis Dugoine, the elder, though deficient in that perseverance and industry which characterized the younger, was nevertheless, to all appearances, more successful and prosperous than the other. It was a wonder to all how Francis Dugoine, idle and prodigal in his habits, could have more money, and make a better show in the world than his brother Paul, who toiled early and late and was always prudent and saving. But, whatever the cause, such had really been the case since the two brothers had come into possession of their respective farms.

Paul Dugoine, though seemingly less prosperous than his elder brother, in a worldly point of view, and wholly unable to furnish his family with the means of making so aristocratic a show in society was, nevertheless, as a farmer, in independent circumstances, having already a snug little sum deposited in one of the Montreal banks.

But whatever he had been able to save, it was the positive and undeniable fruits of industry and frugality. It was acknowledged that no man in Grand Pre labored with more skill and perseverance than Paul Dugoine; while every one was ready to testify that Francis Dugoine, so far as the interests of his farm were concerned, went entirely to the other extreme.

For some time prior to the commencement of our story there had been several atrocious robberies committed at various times in and around Grand Pre, which defied all the ingenuity and penetration of the detective force.

The outrages were perpetrated in every instance by a party of colored men; but so far it had been impossible to obtain any definite clue which would lead to their detection.

About this time Paul Dugoine had a certain sum of money which he was desirous of adding to his bank account, and the fact was not unknown to some of his neighbors—that is the fact of its possession, though not of its intended disposal.

It was on a beautiful September morning that Paul announced his determination of starting for Montreal to deposit his accumulated hard.

As he looked over the contents of the little bag, and he counted up the pretty sum of one hundred and some odd dollars, in gold and silver, he remarked proudly to his wife that little Josie, his only child, would have a snug dower when she arrived at a suitable age to be married.

He was looking a long way ahead, for Josie was then not five years old—just the age of the great St. Bernard dog stretched on the rug before the fire.

Rover was the admiration of all who knew him in Grand Pre, for he was an animal of wonderful sagacity, besides being one of those clever, good-natured dogs that never barked or snorted at anybody without a provocation.

"I shall leave Rover behind," said Paul, as he was getting ready to start on his journey, which would occupy about two days, "and you will be as safe with him in the house as though I were here myself. There are no four men in Grand Pre that could harm a hair of your head while he is around. Give him a free run of the house and you are all right. No one will molest you—not even that band of black desperadoes who have already become the terror of the surrounding neighborhood and country, if they knew he was with you, and unchained."

He kissed his wife and little Josie tenderly for he was a most devoted husband and father; and mounting his sturdy Canadian horse, was soon on his way to Montreal.

That night, in consequence of the absence of its head, the little family retired early—the servant girl occupying a room adjoining her mistress, and the faithful dog allowed to roam at liberty through the lower and unoccupied rooms, whose doors, in accordance with Paul Dugoine's directions, had all been left ajar, with the exception of the outer door, which was securely locked.

Mrs. Dugoine, who could not but feel a little uneasy at the thought of being left alone, if only for a single night, had left her light burning, and was lying in a wakeful mood, thinking of their lonely situation—two lone women and a little girl, in a lone farm-house a quarter of a mile removed from any other house, and the knowledge abroad, as she had good reason to know, that her husband had money saved up.

With these thoughts busy in her mind, she lay awake till late into the night restless and fidgety, and starting at every sound however faint, till she was satisfied it would be utterly impossible for her to close her eyes in sleep if she lay there till morning. Josie, however, slept quiet and undisturbed, and the servant girl in the next room was equally oblivious, to judge from her loud and regular breathing.

Soon after the clock had struck eleven, she fancied that her quick ear detected the sound of footsteps cautiously approaching the house, and then a low buzzing murmur as of suppressed voices on the outside. Then Rover began to bark, and tear about frantically in the lower rooms. Then she heard a wrenching of the door lock, and presently the clicking sound of the bolt as it flew back.

She could no longer doubt but that some one was working at the door, and for no good purpose. For a moment it seemed as though her heart stood still. She could not scream out to Helice, for her very tongue seemed paralyzed.

O! what would she not have given at that moment to have been in a place of safety with little Josie, who was still sleeping the unconscious sleep of trustful childhood. But had their lives depended upon it, she could not have moved a finger to save them. She could hear the invaders below, though still on the outside—not yet having ventured to open the door—trying in subdued tones to soothe and pacify the dog. She heard them call his name:

"Rover—be quiet, Rover, and go lay down. That's a good doggie!"

But Rover was fairly on the rampage, and not to be quieted by any such specious pleadings, either from friend or foe.

"Don't bother with the dog," growled a rough voice on the outside. "Give him a button—that'll settle his hash."

Then Mrs. Dugoine heard the door cautiously open and shut, and all was quiet after that for several minutes, excepting an occasional demonstration of belligerency on the part of Rover, who still maintained his position near the outer door. Oh, what moments of horror and suspense were those of the poor mother.

Up to this time neither Josie nor Helice had awakened, although the noise below had been sufficient to awake a very sound sleeper.

At length after a painful pause of several minutes, during which the dog had relapsed into comparative silence, the door was again opened in the same cautious manner as before, though to the attentive ears of Mrs. Dugoine the slightest noise was distinctly audible.

It was very strange, she thought, that for the last minute or two she had heard nothing from the dog, and she began to entertain fears that he had swallowed the button of which the ruffian had spoken, and which she had good reason to believe had been cast to him at the time she had first heard the door open. If such was the case poor Rover was probably now in the agonies of death, or dead, and the helpless three above stairs were left without a defender, at the mercy of the assailants.

None but a mother who has passed through a similar ordeal can imagine the fearful agony and terror of Mrs. Dugoine at that moment. She looked upon her sleeping child, and in imagination could already see the glittering steel of the assassin at her throat, and feel its sharp edge sending a murderous thrill along her sensative nerves. She was so paralyzed from the horrors of the situation that she could not move a limb—could not cry out even had those shuddering imaginary fears proven a reality.

She heard the door creak as it slowly opened and the next moment a rush of heavy feet sounded in the passage. Then came a cry from Rover that sounded like the fierce, maddened howl of a wild beast let loose upon its assailants. The wild, confused sound of a deadly struggle ensued. Fierce growls and terrified oaths were blended together as though every inch of ground was being bravely contested by their gallant and unyielding defender.

So terrified was Mrs. Dugoine by the dreadful uproar, and to such a pitch of alarm had every faculty been worked up previously, that she absolutely fainted in her bed. When at last she came to her senses again, she found Josie clinging to her in childish terror, and Helice bathing her face and temples with some potent restorative.

All was still below stairs, with the exception of occasional groans, as of some person in distress, followed by munching and growling from proved more than a match for his adversaries, Mrs. Dugoine began to breathe easier.

Still the timid occupants of the chamber could not muster sufficient courage to go below to ascertain the condition of the wounded wretch, whoever he might chance to be, and they remained where they were, and tremblingly awaited the approach of daylight, when some early riser of the neighborhood might chance to pass by. Nor were they disappointed in their expectations, for soon after it began to be light a couple of men riding near by, who were passing the house on their way to work, imagined there might be something wrong in the outside door being open, with no sign of any one astir about the house. They knew that Paul Dugoine had started the day before for Montreal, and that a careful timid woman like Mrs. Dugoine would not be very likely to leave her door open on retiring for the night—especially as house-breaking and robberies had been of frequent occurrence of late in and around the immediate vicinity of Grand Pre. Taking into consideration these facts, it was enough to induce the two men to turn from the highway and approach the house.

On reaching the door they were shocked and horrified at the spectacle which awaited them.

In the front entry two colored men stretched out in a pool of their own blood, and just over the threshold of the kitchen lay a third, with Rover standing hard by watching him, his throat horribly mutilated, though an occasional movement or a groan indicated that the wretch still lived. If there had been any more of the party, they had wisely decamped in season to save themselves from sharing in a similar fate.

Mrs. Dugoine and Helice had seen the two men from their chamber window as they approached the house, and presently recognizing them as their near neighbors, they mustered up sufficient courage to unlock the door of their chamber, and descend to the kitchen.

The village of Grand Pre was less than half a mile distant from the house, and one of the men was dispatched thither to inform the authorities of the tragical occurrance, and in half an hour the people of the village had gathered on the green in front of the house.

The three robbers were carried out and laid on the grass, where the congregated multitude could see them, and the examination showed that two out of the three were already dead. The remaining one was alive though seemingly insensible; and on removing his coat and vest to examine the extent of his injuries, everybody was surprised to find that the supposed black was a white man.

Soap, water and towels were brought out, and the faces of the robbers were carefully washed. Judge of the astonishment of every one present on discovering in the features of the three desperadoes, the faces of three well-known citizens of Grand Pre. The bodies of the dead were claimed by their friends for burial, while the one that still lived was removed to the village and placed under medical treatment. He recovered in a short time, and on the examination which followed was revealed the startling fact that an organized gang had for some time existed in the immediate neighborhood and its surroundings, whose chief and prime mover was Francis Dugoine. Such of the band as did not escape were speedily arrested, and the trial which followed resulted in their conviction and sentence to several years in penal servitude.

So pleased were the citizens of Grand Pre with the heroic and noble conduct of Rover, that a contribution was taken up, and a Silver Collar purchased for him upon which his own name and that of his owner were inscribed.

Truth Stronger than Fiction.

At the breaking out of the war between the States, in one of our charming gulf coast cities, there resided a young lady, the daughter of one not unknown to fame, and who had occupied a high civil position in the State of———. The young lady was engaged to a gentleman in every respect worthy of her hand and heart. But the course of true love never does run smooth. Haughty guardians—white lies—a system of merciless persecution on the part of the guardian towards the fair and accomplished ward, destroyed the existing engagement between the two lovers, and fraught with the bitterest consequences, as the sequel will establish. The gentleman at once became reckless of life—fought with the greatest of gallantry on many a bloodstained battle field in the cause of the South, until the close of the war.

Like many others who had lost all upon the result, the advent of peace did not bring back to him hope or joy. Having lost everything on earth he valued, he plunged into every excess of life—became a noted and confirmed fast man and inveterate gambler, noted for his desperation at play—one whose heart was as hard as steel, and as cold as ice. The young lady, to avoid the persecution of a heartless guardian fled from her home. One false step followed another in quick succession, until at last she became an inmate of one of those noted Memphis establishments too well known, in our fair city. To sum it up she had fallen into sin and shame—a victim to persecution—a votary at the shrine of crime and folly.

She had been a resident of Memphis but about four weeks when the gentleman (her former lover) arrived in the city. Of course he frequented the fashionable gambling houses of the city, in pursuit of his profession. A few evenings after he visited the house of Mme.——, a noted keeper of a bagnio. Seating himself at a piano, he thumbed over an old air unconsciously, "Kinlock of Kinlock," a favorite in time gone by. He had struck but a few bars when a lady rushed into the parlor, and seized him by the shoulder, turned him half around, gazed into his face, and exclaimed in a tone of agony, "My God, is this Mr.——?"

They had met once more after a lapse of ten years—but how changed were the positions of each? The accomplished belle had become a "soiled dove"—the high-toned and chivalric gentleman had become a noted and desperate gambler.

The [illegible] and wept like a child. The tide of years swept back over his past life, and memory dragged up the drowned recollections of former days, when he stood by the side of a fair, pure maiden, her chosen lover.

Mutual explanations followed the denouement. The love which had in better and happier days been the fruitful source of joys and woes unnumbered, sprang at once into existence. In fact, it had never died, but smouldered in the bosom of each, over past recollections sad and unfortunate. They retired to a private apartment for a short time to hear the story of their lives, as each detailed it with truth. They left the house of shame at once, and a few evenings since they were married. Ere this, hundreds of miles separate them from Memphis, the scene of this sad but romantic reunion.

It matters not who they were—names are mere incidents in a heart history—and certainly no Christian man or woman would desire a publication of names when it would but follow the man and woman to their far-off western home, and give rise to tales of mystery and disgrace. The society of 'outrageously virtuous," headed by Miss Prim, will no doubt cry out "shame" when they learn that wicked people struggle back towards the paths of virtue and reformation; but what of that? Let the "innocent cast the first stone," and we will rest satisfied that no direct attack will be made upon our hero and heroine.

This is a true history, strange and romantic, proving again that it is never too late to retrace our steps, and that no human being is ever lost while life exists.

We have no doubt that this strange and accidental meeting will work a reformation as to both parties, for our philosophy teaches us that "from the nettle, danger, we often pluck the flower, safety."—Memphis Appeal.

Baptizing the Baby.

Down in Woodbury there is a woman who is extremely deaf, and her affliction has caused an extremely unpleasant mistake, of which her infant child is the victim. She took this babe to church the other day to have him baptized. While she was waiting in the vestibule, she thought she would keep him quiet by feeding him from a bottle of milk. While the child was still taking the sustenance, the mother was summoned to the church with the announcement that the minister was ready. In her agitation she drew the bottle from the babe's mouth hurredly, when the gum nozzle came off, and a pint of milk was spilled upon the child's new clothes. When the clergyman took the child in his arms, he looked down at it and asked the mother what name should be given it. She, with her mind troubled about the accident, thought he was asking how the clothing became soiled, so she answered,—

"Nozzle came off."

Rather surprised, he asked again for the name, and she, thinking he did not understand her, bawled out.

"Nozzle came off, I say!"

Whereupon that astonished divine poured water on the child's head, and said,—

"Nozzle-came-off Ferguson, I baptize thee," etc, etc. What this woman wants to know now is, whether the legislature or something can't have that child's name changed to Henry or Lucullus or William before he gets old enough to swear at his parents.

New York Tobacco Market.

The following paragraphs are clipped from the New York Tobacco Leaf of the 16th ultimo:

Virginia Leaf.—Sales in this market seem to be still confined to lugs and low leaf. Prices are constantly improving, but have not as yet quite attained the high Richmond standard. From that city we continue to receive accounts of the increasing scarcity of good tobacco, owing to the fact that the 1870 crop is being steadily exhausted of choice qualities, and is now over two-thirds marketed. Indeed it is estimated that were the Virginia manufacturers to stop buying to-morrow, there would not be enough leaf left to fill orders from other States, to say nothing of the Regie contracts and foreign shippers generally. This fact, taken in connection with the crop falling short of estimates, seems to indicate an era of high prices for some time to come. To strengthen this hypothesis we hear the cry of a short crop for 1871. It is of course too soon to speak with any degree of certainty, but all the accounts that reach us are laden with the same burden of lamentation. Making every allowance for the interested efforts to "bull" the market of those who find themselves left with a large stock of nondescript, undesirable leaf on hand, there would seem to be some foundation of truth in the representations of a much smaller planting than last year's, owing to a scarcity of plants, and of the present poor appearance of much that is set out.

Manufactured.—The market still wears a monotonous aspect and prices favor buyers. Will not some enterprising individual hasten to take advantage of this fact, which we impart in the strictest confidence? From Virginia we learn that many manufacturers, weary of turning out work that cannot find a purchaser, are very sensibly stopping for a time. The price of leaf frightens them, and they find little encouragement in the fact of a short crop, which seems to have become almost a fait accompli. There are a few Southern customers looking around, and several exporters are making suggestive inquiries, but as yet without result. The German demand seems to have been unfavorably affected by the large seizures of tobacco in France during the war. What fell into the hands of the army was disposed of at auction at merely nominal figures, and the effect in a very meagre demand from Vaterland is now being witnessed.

Sad Effect of Nasal Trumpeting.

The Second Presbyterian Church at Danville being without a pastor for the present, says a correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, the different ministers of this town, especially those connected with the Theological Seminary, preach alternately to the orphan congregation, and last night it was Dr. Yerke's turn to [illegible] of divine truth, when suddenly—horribile dictu!—a member affected with a bad cold commenced blowing his nose most violently. A terrible blowing it was, such as you never heard before in all your life, and such as the poor doctor hopes never to hear again. It evidently had swept the whole of the beautiful sermon out of his memory, and having no notes about him, he tried in vain to restore the broken connection. But, alas! he could discover neither end, and the frightened doctor exclaimed:

"Brother McMullin, you will oblige me by repeating the text?"

The reverend brother arose, thought awhile, stammered, hesitated, and sat down again—he gave it up.

"Please will any one in the congregation let me know my text?"

After a long pause a student said:

"I Corinthians, 10, 16."

Relieved from a great burden, the happy Doctor opened the Bible, but only to find that it was a sad mistake.

"This is not the right one. Please cannot any one recollect the text?"

A dead silence followed. Prof. Beatty, of Centre College, rubbed his head in despair, but he neither rubbed the text out of nor into it. Rev. Mr. Johnstone and many of his brethren, together with the whole congregation, all were unable to find the lost darling.

The laughter which followed now was indescribable and quite a time passed before the house could be called to order.

It being finally restored, the doctor called on Mr. McMullin to close the meeting with prayer, and all adjourned perfectly convinced that they had listened to one of the most remarkable sermons ever preached.

A Costly Pin.

Frenchmen of the old school did at times tremendously polite things, such as breaking their necks to pick up a lady's fan, or running through the body of any one who should dare to say that her foot was large or her nose red. In our days Frenchman are not quite such fools, yet they sometimes do exceedingly foolish things in the polite line. This story, for instance, is related of a Count: One night a lady of his acquaintance had a lace dress of considerable value torn by a man tramping on it. After an exclamation of impatience she turned to the Count and said: "Have you a pin?" "Madame," said he, "I don't carry a pincushion, but here is one," and he drew from his breast a valuable diamond. "Sir," said the lady, nettled probably by his retort about the pincushion, "I cannot accept a diamond from you." "Well, then," returned he, "here is a pin without a diamond." And breaking off the jewel, he threw it out of the window, and presented the single pin.

John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, when one day riding through the country, was saluted by a fellow who was lying in a ditch. "Hello! Father Wesley, I am glad to see you. How do you do?" "I don't know you," said Mr Wesley, reining up his horse. "Who are you?" "Don't you know me? Why you are the very man that converted me." "I reckon I am," said Mr. Wesley putting spurs to his horse; "at least one thing is evident, the Lord had nothing to do with it."

GENERAL NEWS.

The negro cadet Smith, at West Point, is in trouble again. This time it is for harshly treating another negro cadet, Gee, from Alabama. There are now three negro cadets at this institution, Smith, Gee and Napier.

Full particulars regarding the troubles between our fleet and the Coreans, on the north-east coast of China, have been published. The New York Herald says that the movements of our fleet turned out to be a fizzle, while the Tribune confesses that "we have failed in securing the avowed objects of the expedition, and the whole affair is worse than useless, unless the force under the orders of Admiral Rogers is quadrupled and he is ordered to reduce the country."

Reports from the richest cotton districts in Alabama and Mississippi say that the army worm has appeared in larger numbers than ever before. The boll worm is also reported in many counties.

Gen. Stoneman, the celebrated raider, has been retired from the army, with the rank of Colonel. As he had never been wounded, but incurred his disabilities from exposure, he could not be retired on the full rank held by him in active service.

In Philadelphia, on the 20th ult., a young man named Albert Harrison ran his father through with a small sword, while trying to prevent him from beating his mother. The father is in a critical condition, and the son was locked-up.

A negro called at the office of Dr. R. G. Cabell, in Richmond, on the night of the 23rd ult., and pretended that he wanted a tooth pulled. As the doctor was looking for his instruments, the fellow laid felonious hands upon a $150 gold watch, and escaped with it.

Some of the Republican papers at the north, opposed to Grant, are suggesting the name of Vice President Colfax as a suitable candidate for the Presidency.

Chief Justice Chase is buying up the State of Rhode Island. He has already purchased five acres, and is keeping a sharp eye on the other fifteen.

A difficulty occurred in Edgefield county, S. C., some days since, between a farmer, Mr. W. D. Allen, and one of his negro hands. The negro seized an axe, and tried to brain Mr. Allen, when the latter drew his pocket-knife, the only weapon of defence he had, and plunged it in his assailant's side, inflicting a wound from which he died next day.

A negro juryman went to sleep during the trial of a case at Lake City, Florida, last week, and was robbed of his pocket-book by a brother juryman who sat next to him, also colored. Nice crowd to try other people's rights.

During a drunken quarrel, recently, at the former was severely wounded in the side, from a double barreled shot-gun in the hands of the latter.

The widow of a man who died in Ironton, Ohio, of delirium tremens, went for the fellow who sold the whiskey to him, and has recovered damages to the amount of $5,000.

Hon. R. B. Carpenter, Conservative candidate for the Governorship of South Carolina at the last election, has gone to Pennsylvania to assist in stumping the State for the democracy in the present fall campaign. Mr. Carpenter is a northern man himself, and he intends to show up the vileness of the Republican leaders in the South.

Some days ago, a negro woman died in Sumter county, S. C., and was buried in a rather singular manner. She had united with a negro church, but had backslided, and was not in good standing. So, when she became ill, no one would assist her or call in a doctor, and she died probably from want of attention. The negro pastor ordered that the body should be placed in the grave head downwards, and it was so done; because, as he said, she was going down to the place of torments anyhow, and that was the proper position for her. What must become of the flocks that have such heathenish shepherds?

The wives of General Sherman and Admiral Dahlgren, with Miss C. E. Beecher, have started a paper in Baltimore called the True Woman, and which is opposed to woman suffrage. This is better than advocating that miserable humbug, but they would have done still better to have kept quiet. Fanaticism feeds on opposition.

Speaker Blaine charges in a recent speech that the Democrats do not recognize the Constitution. If this were true, even, it would be no wonder. The Constitution has been so frightfully mutilated by the radical party that even its own fathers wouldn't recognise it.

In Xarata, a city of the Argentine Republic, South America, they had a hurricane recently, accompanied with a shower of stones as large as eggs, which did immense damage.

A large hotel and thirty other buildings were burned in Williamsport, Pa., on the 21st ult. Loss about $800,000. Had there been plenty of water handy, the conflagration might have been stayed before it did so much damage.

The Russian imperial fleet, with the Grand Duke Alexis on board, left Cronstadt on the 20th inst., for New York. Now for a big time among the shoddyites.

Horse stealing is punished with death in Tennessee. Green Turner, a negro preacher, was sentenced to death for this crime in the circuit Court of Pulaski, some time since. His defence in court was somewhat singular. The Saviour took the first ass he saw on entering Jerusalem; why should not he, a follower of the Saviour and a preacher of his Word, do likewise? This view of the case was eminently Scriptural, but the jury didn't see it in that light, the mule being altogether of "another color" from that quadruped referred to in Holy Writ.

The monkeys have declared war on the Vera Cruz and Tampico telegraph, in Mexico. They destroy the insulators, swing on the wire by hundreds and pelt the workmen with stones.

Davidson County Mass Meeting.

THREE OR FOUR would-be party leaders, of the Republican party, having advertised a meeting of ONE PARTY ALONE, we, a portion of the people, in behalf of ourselves and ALL the people, without regard to party, urge every good citizen to come together in mass meeting in Lexington, on Saturday the 2nd day of September, 1871, to consider what amendments of our Constitution should be proposed by Legislative enactment, and how our taxes can be reduced and the great body of the people saved from bankruptcy and financial ruin.

Our representatives in the General Assembly are respectfully requested to attend and express their views. Rally! Rally!! Come one! Come all!!

THE FRIENDS OF REFORM.

The Official Returns---Immense Frauds.

We have the official vote of the State by counties, and have prepared our table exhibiting the loss and gain in each county since last year. The official majority against Convention is 9,245. The vote for Convention is 1,641 less than the vote for Judge Shipp in 1870, and the vote against Convention is 11,815 more than the vote for Mr. Phillips. The Convention men elect a majority of the delegates.

The Wilmington Journal, in dissecting the vote, calls attention to the large vote polled in the counties having negro majorities as compared with those having white majorities. In the white counties giving large Convention majorities, the vote is one to every seven or eight of the population, while in the negro counties, giving anti-Convention majorities, the vote is one to every four or five of the population. In Halifax county, which gave a majority of over 2000 against Convention, there was one vote polled to every four inhabitants of the county. This is simply impossible. The same is true of other large negro counties; and what is true of these counties, is equally true of other counties where registrars and poll-holders were appointed merely with a view to defraud honest voters out of their rights. Thousands of illegal votes were polled in the large Radical counties, and without some stringent measures it cannot be checked. In these counties it is evident that enough fraudulent votes were cast to decide the issue of the election. If we allow ourselves to be thus cheated out of elections with our eyes wide open, and make no effort to prevent it, we deserve to be defeated, and have our prosperity stolen from us by thievish officials.

On Tuesday next, California holds her election for Governor and State officers, and on the same day the territory of Wyoming will elect a Legislature. There is no guessing how the latter will turn out, for Wyoming enjoys female suffrage. The women cast about 600 votes last year, or about one-fifth the whole number polled. They hold the balance of power between the parties, and every solitary one of them may vote this year exactly opposite to the way they voted last year. We would not wager a cent on the result. In California, however, there are fair indications of a Democratic triumph, owing, not only to the corruptions of the radical leaders, but to the divisions in their ranks which have become intensified by the conduct of Geo. C. Gorham, Secretary of the U. S. Senate, who is now cutting up some curious political pranks in San Francisco, and who, probably at the instigation of Gen. Grant, repudiated, on behalf of the Republican party of the country, the anti-Chinese and anti-subsidy planks in the State platform. The California rads live so far off from Washington that they had not found out, until Gorham enlightened them, that Grant was the Dictator of their party. The Democrats will certainly elect two of the three members of Congress, and as the Legislature will be unquestionably Democratic, we may look for a Democratic United States Senator to succeed Cole, radical, whose term expires with the present Congress.

There is no longer any doubt about the existence of yellow fever in Charleston.—It first appeared over a month ago, and the doctors kept it a secret as long as they could; but as the cases became more numerous, the matter leaked out, and now it is acknowledged that the disease has become epidemic. Strict precautions are being taken at Wilmington and other places to prevent the introduction of the fever; railroad communication with the infected city has been suspended, and a general quarantine established.

The official returns from nearly all the counties in West Virginia are in, and indicate that the people of that State have called a Constitutional Convention by a decided majority. We almost envy them. They are far better off than we are.

THE STORM AT OLD FORT.—The letter which appears in another column, giving the details of the recent terrible storm at Old Fort, was sent by a lady from Salem, then stopping in that neighborhood, to a gentleman in this place, and kindly handed us by the latter for publication.

CHEROKEE CHIEF.—At the recent election for principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation the vote is for Col. Lewis Downing 828; for Col. Ross 597.—Col. Downing's majority 231.

Getting Down to Dirty Work.

It is but a few weeks since that Mr. Akerman, the Attorney General of the United States, made his appearance in North Carolina, for the purpose of making stump speeches against Convention and intimidating our people from voting according to their honest convictions and for what they believed would be the speediest way to disembarrass the State.—Akerman did this dirty work at the instance of the great re-nomination seeker, Gen. Grant, instead of remaining in Washington city and attending to the legitimate duties of his office for which he is paid $8,000 a year of the people's money. As Akerman is said to be a poor lawyer, especially in constitutional matters, he does'nt earn his salary, and perhaps it is Grant's intention that he shall make up his failings in that respect by performing these odd jobs. However this may be, we are now informed that Boutwell, the Secretary of the Treasury, is to undertake a similar job. He is to stump Ohio this month, making his first speech at Cincinnati, about a week hence, and he is now at his home in the holy State of Massachusetts, writing out his contemplated harangues and premeditating the "mistakes" in the statements which he intends to make regarding the financial affairs of the country. The old saying, "Figures can't lie," has been dropped out of the language since the radicals have had the handling of election returns, and especially since Boutwell has had the management of the public treasury. Mathematicians have come to the melancholy conclusion that figures can not only lie, but they can beat almost anything else lying—if manipulated by the right hands. But we were talking about Ohio, and so forth. Ohio holds her election for Governor and other State officers on the 10th of next month. Affairs are looking badly for the radicals in that great State, and the administration at Washington will have regard for neither decorum nor decency in its efforts to prevent its corrupt party from being overwhelmed by the reactionary uprising which is imminent. What would have been thought and said of our Presidents before the war, had they attempted such an outrage upon the healthier public sentiment which then prevailed, as to detail their cabinet officers as stump-speakers in State canvasses, for the primary purpose of deceiving the masses in regard to the true condition of public affairs, and, ultimately, that they might the more effectually compass their own re-nomination and re-election? Even the acknowledged patriotism of a Jefferson, an Adams, or a Jackson, would not have saved them from the crushing effects of their misguided zeal.

Tht Richmond Whig says it is reported that the Conservative Legislature of Georgia will impeach Governor Bullock, repudiate the fraudulent lease of the State Road to Cameron, Delano, Scott & Co., and repudiate all the State bonds over the amount allowed by law. Matters have come to such a pass that repudiation is the sole resource left to the people. This report seems to be credited, and there is such good ground for the proceeding that, it is said, Bullock has already left the State and has no intention of returning. He has made his Jack out of the swindled taxpayers of Georgia, and will enjoy the evening of his days as far away from them as possible. It is also reported that Kimball, another carpet-bagger, has fled from the impending danger. The Savannah News thinks that both these first-class specimens of radicalism are at the North or in Europe trying to sell bogus Georgia bonds. All they get for them will be so much more in their capacious pockets.

Cundurango, the great cancer specific, is, to use a vulgarism, "played out." The State Department at Washington obtained a supply of the herb from Peru, and sent it to a number of prominent physicians throughout the country for trial. Reports now come in from most of them that they have made all sorts of experiments with it, and that it is of no value in curing cancer. It is now believed that the whole thing was started by a few enterprising individuals, as a gigantic speculation on the miseries of the afflicted, but they were too fast, and lo! the bubble has burst.

Col. W. B. Wood, late chief of the U. S. Detective force, publishes a startling statement to the effect that the steamship Golden Rule, which was wrecked in 1865 upon the Roncador Reefs, with over a million of dollars on board, was wrecked purposely, so that the treasure might be stolen. One Montgomery Gibbs managed the affair, and Col. Wood says he would have made arrests of all the parties, had it not been the desire of the Administration to protect Gibbs. Mrs. Grant, Speaker Blaine, Minister Washburn and other prominent personages in the radical household, all stood up to Gibbs, and so Col. Wood saw it was of no use to pursue the fellow any further. He can produce evidence to convict him now, if he thought the President would permit a fair trial.

It is possible that the custom-house at Charleston, S. C., will be closed until the yellow fever subsides, as the collector and most of the employees are unacclimated.

The above sneakingly worded dispatch comes from Washington. It means that nearly all the custom-house officials in Charleston are carpet-baggers, and because their precious carcasses are in jeopardy, the merchants of Charleston, who are acclimated, must have their business hindered, delayed and disarranged.

Holden Redivivus.

The Washington correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch, writing to that paper under the date of the 25th ult., makes curious statements in regard to ex Gov. Holden and his friends, among which is the following:

They say ex-Governor Holden will carry his case to the courts by legal process, in which he expects to compel two members of the Legislature who voted for his impeachment to show that they have sworn falsely as to their qualifications to a seat in the Legislature. In other words, his friends assert that these two members were disqualified by reason of their participation in the rebellion, notwithstanding their oaths to the contrary. And they claim that if they establish these facts, the impeachment of Holden will be declared illegal, as it could not have been adjudged had these two votes been excluded.

Perhaps the following sentence, which precedes the foregoing, may be the key to the whole business:

In the face of these facts and figures against them, these Holden men assert that the next Legislature of North Carolina will be Republican, and that the State is Radical.

Whatever may be the opinion of Mr. Holden's friends in regard to the political status of North Carolina, and the complexion of our next Legislature, it cannot be more egregiously erroneous than the impression which some of them seem to have that they can improve the prospects of the radical party, or those of the ex-Governor, by forcing him again upon a people who have carefully tried, deliberately and conscientiously judged, and calmly but decidedly condemned him.—There is a portion, even, of the Republican party in this State, comprising its more intelligent minds, that felt infinitely more relieved at the removal, without any ungrateful effort on their part, of what they considered an incubus or dead-weight, than our friends did in removing one whom they considered a criminal. These Republicans would be quick to resent any action which would tend to place them again in Mr. Holden's leading strings. The impeachment and conviction of the ex-Governor benefited the radical party alone, in a political sense, inasmuch as it removed from their leadership a man weighed down with deserved obloquy and in whom they had no confidence, for they felt that he would either destroy their party by betraying it, or by burying it beneath a mountain of sins; and it gave them another leader whose participation in the iniquities of his predecessor was more implied than charged, and in whom the rank and file had a confidence, that was as yet, undisturbed. The Conservatives did not care for this, but removed Mr. Holden as an act of justice which was required to vindicate the principles of civil liberty which he had wantonly assailed.

It is difficult for us to understand how the result of the recent election in this State upon a non-partisan issue, can have filled the minds of Mr. Holden and his friends with the hope that the time is approaching when he can manage to have his impeachment declared illegal. It may be nothing more than a newspaper canard, but that such a hope exists it is not difficult to believe. With a partisan Court, such as we regret to say we have in North Carolina, many things are possible that would not be possible in law; and, if we take into consideration the innumerable points upon which a man may be declared banned by such a Court, whether he lawfully falls within the purview of the Fourteenth Amendment or not, we must acknowledge that it appears to us quite possible that some attempt of the kind may be made. We know, however, that this matter of disqualification was fully canvassed between the ex-Governor and his counsel while the impeachment trial was progressing, and though the antecedents of every Senator were carefully picked over with a view to finding something that would invalidate the trial, it was finally determined to abandon the point, as not a shadow of a doubt could be raised against the legitimacy of the positions of thirty-four members of the Court whose votes were required to convict. The ex-Governor was convicted by thirty-six votes on the final judgment—two more than were absolutely necessary to accomplish his removal. On some of the articles he was convicted by forty and forty-one votes.

Under the present corrupt administration, bounty and pension frauds continue to develope themselves in the Pension Bureau. Notwithstanding the spasmodic efforts occasionally made to investigate the methods in which these frauds are perpetrated, the offenders being almost always political favorites of the radical leaders, are either permitted to escape without notice, or their attempts are winked at, as in the late case of R. R. Butler, the radical Congressman from Tennessee. The latest developments of the present character go to show that certain claim agents, through collusion with employees in the departments, who have access to the muster and pay rolls, have nearly perfected a plan for a wholesale raid upon the Treasury. A favorite field of action for the swindlers has been in the Southern States in the colored claims. Report now reaches the Department, from the United States District Attorney at Salem, N. C., that a gang of swindlers of the present class have been unearthed there, and that they will soon be brought to justice.

The radical plunderers of Georgia are still pursuing their vocation. A Rev. N. P. Hotchkiss, railroad auditor, has just been arrested for swindling the State, and his preliminary examination discloses stupendous frauds upon the public. Hotchkiss, Blodgett and Bullock, who appear to be partners in these transactions, were a few years ago penniless, and now roll in riches, all stolen from the tax-payers of Georgia.

Discouraging reports of the grape crop come from Western New York. The bunches rapidly decay upon the vines, and the product of wine this season in that section will fall very short.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

LOCAL ITEMS.

AT HOME.—We neglected last week to mention the arrival at home on leave of absence, of our young friend, Mr. Sam. C. Lemly, of the Naval Academy at Annapolis. He looks well and hearty, and like one of Mother Carey's chickens, he brought rain with him when he came. He is just off a short cruise on the U. S. Sloop Constellation to Halifax, Portland and other Canadian and New England ports. Next year he expects to be taken on a foreign cruise. Mr. Lemly is now in the 2nd class, and has two years of pupilage yet to undergo before graduation. There are 34 in his class, and there are no colored cadets at the Naval Academy. He expresses his liking for naval life, and looks for all the world as if he would make a bluff, hearty seaman. Success to him.

ON THE RAMPAGE.—There is not much to disturb the gentle rippling of life in our quiet, old-fashioned town, but on Monday evening last we had just a little fun. One of our citizens had purchased a cow at Jno. Reich's sale a day or two before, and was having the animal driven home. She drove quietly enough until she entered town, and then took a notion to be eccentric. Noticing an old lady stooping in a doorway, she made for her, and hoisted her into a back room; next she pounced upon a citizen who was engaged in some out-door work, and turned him over as quickly as one could wink. After this the street was cleared, one youngster bouncing over a fence in quicker time than he ever got over one in his life; but it was some time before the animal could be safely stabled. We understand she performed a number of exploits up the street, but we "were not there to see."

"DEAD FOR A DUCAT—DEAD!"—Friend Clark, at High Point, is in sore trouble.—The beasts and birds of his menagerie are not a happy family, and they will slaughter one another if they get a chance.—Poor "Jack"—the owl—is the latest victim. While flitting about the premises, singing the beautiful melodies which he had learned from some saw mill, he happened to alight on the cage of the big hawk, and that was the last of him. One vicious blow, and all was over. Some sympathising friend has coined his grief over Jack's untimely fate into an obituary, but the crowded condition of our columns prevent us from giving it to the world.

Surry Superior Court commences on Monday next, with His Honor Judge Cannon, of the 12th District, on the bench.

For the Press.

Terrible Storm at Old Fort, McDowell County, on the Western N. C. Rail Road.

One of the fiercest storms ever known in North Carolina passed over Old Fort, McDowell county, last Saturday, at about 4 o'clock in the evening.

It rose in the east, and resembled a dense haze, but was so bright that it dazzled the eyes of those who saw it.

It seemed like the clouds had bursted and that they were pouring forth their liquid contents in indescribable volumes. On it came roaring as it did so, like distant cannonading, the trees bending beneath its force; on it came with still more terrible violence, tearing up trees by the roots, and wrenching the largest branches from some of the stoutest trees, and whirling them through the air like autumn leaves.

The mountains were now obscured, and the heavens darkened by black clouds, and every thing was seeking shelter. The storm continued to rage with great violence; tremendous oaks were swept across the fields, rails from the fences were blown high in the air, and the crops left prostrated.

The kitchen belonging to the hotel had its top swept away, and the stage which was in a remote part of the yard was driven by the fierceness of the storm, under a large walnut tree which fell upon it and the remaining portion of the kitchen, destroying both.

The green walnuts were hurled through the air thick as hail, and came with astonishing violence against the doors and windows, but did no damage. Four gentlemen were asleep in the stage, but being apprised of their danger, escaped safely but narrowly.

The hotel was raised off the ground and slided fifteen feet, leaving the chimney standing; several persons were inside, but none were hurt. Mrs. L. S. Aldrich, wife of the Engineer, and Mrs. E. T. Clemmons, of Salem, made a very narrow escape, a large tree falling in a few feet of them. They then got in the house, when a large branch of a sycamore was blown across the creek and hit against the door with great force. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott also escaped very narrowly.

Mr. Height, while crossing the yard, was felled to the earth by a large limb, but managed to reach the house just as a large hickory tree fell behind him. Mr. McClure was blown high into the air several times while coming from the mill.—Both gentlemen are badly bruised, but will probably soon recover.

The storm astonished some of the oldest citizens, they never before having seen one rage with such fury. It came and went in a short time; fortunately no lives were lost, although fowls and swine in attempting to stem the current fell helpless to the earth.

An immense amount of damage was done the crops; all the corn, &c., being utterly ruined.

The tall and stately walnuts which shaded the beautiful yard belonging to the hotel, were blown down except two, which were entirely stripped of their branches, and the yard which once looked so cheerful now looks desolate and deserted.

The entire loss to Mr. Clemmons, Mr. Elliott and the Old Fort Colony is estimated at two thousand dollars.

The waters are very high, and the rain, for the last two days, has been coming down in torrents; nearly all the foot logs have been washed away, and the creeks are past fording. The stage was delayed yesterday, and unless the waters soon subside, it will be delayed for several days. ****

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE for September has an excellent article on Canadian life, in which the manners of that curious people, the French Canadians, are vividly described. Headley, the well-known author, contributes a sketch entitled "Mountain Views and Adventures," and Wells gives us an entertaining paper on the great German geographer, Mercator. The most interesting article, in the way of tales, is a curious psychological story, entitled "Whose Wife is She," by a new author.—Scribner & Co., 654 Broadway, New York, $3 per year.

THE GALAXY for September opens with a portrait of Swinburne the young English poet who has been making some little noise in literary circles during the past few years. The contents of this number are up to the usual standard. Crapsey continues his vivid pictures of the "Nether Side of New York," and Perkins contributes an entertaining article on "Perpetual Motion." The paper entitled "Agricultural labor in the South" is by a Southerner, and full of excellent suggestions. Perhaps it is the most useful article in this number. All the departments are well edited.—Sheldon & Co., 677 Broadway, New York, $4 a year in advance.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for September presents an inviting table of contents, commencing with a beautiful psychological story by Bayard Taylor, entitled "Twin Love" or the duality of of the soul. It is a sad, sweet and mysterious sketch, and comes perfect from its author's pen. Bert Harte gives us the "Romance of the Madrona Hollow," full of real nature, and possessing the characteristics of all his prose writings. There is nothing on politics in the present number, which omission much improves it.—James R. Osgood & Co., Boston, Mass., $4 per year.

Gen. Hill, of the Southern Home says that he has received several letters lately from North Carolinians, some from the far West and some from the far South, all saying that they had made a mistake in leaving the good Old North State. That is the old story, and yet our people will leave us, and then write letters back groaning over their folly.

STATE ITEMS.

Mr. George Jackson, a farmer near Hillsboro, says the Recorder, was arrested a few days ago by a U. S. revenue officer, charged with distilling brandy without a license. Mr. Jackson is a plain, law-abiding farmer, and got the impression from some one that the law allowed him to distill his own fruit without a license; but it seems his adviser confounded the State law with the Federal law. He accordingly proceeded to convert his fruit into brandy, so as to make a little money to pay his taxes, rather than let his fruit rot on the ground. He no sooner commenced than some government spy who had been watching his opportunity, informed against him, and the poor man with perfectly honest intentions was arrested, his property seized, and he will probably be ruined before he extricates himself from the meshes of the law.

In accordance with arrangements made by the Ladies' Memorial Association of Raleigh, the remains of 103 bodies of our North Carolina soldiers, who fell at Gettysburg, arrived in Raleigh on Friday morning last. The disinterment of the remains from the battle-field was rendered necessary from the fact that the owners of the land were about to plough it up.—At 4½ P. M., all the church bells in Raleigh commenced tolling, and continued to do so for about one hour, when a large crowd of citizens and strangers gathered at the Confederate Cemetery to participate in the solemn ceremonies. Rev. Dr. P. S. Mason, of the Episcopal Church, officiated, with a full choir. While the services were going on at the Cemetery, every place of business in the city was closed.—After the services, the bodies were interred in their last resting place, to be watched over henceforth by the ladies of the Association.

The Battleboro Advance tells of an amusing scene which occurred at Oxford, week before last. A negro juryman—Court was in session—was seen making tracks for the Virginia line; on being accosted as to whither he was going, replied that he was going to leave the State, as the "jury was going to be hung next day at 10 o'clock." Poor fellow; he was on a jury that couldn't agree—that hung upon a verdict, and he had gotten the idea slightly mixed.

We learn from the Greensboro Patriot that Bishop Pearce, of the Methodist church, delivered a magnificent sermon at Concord on Sunday week. As a proof of its effectiveness some fifteen persons or more approached the altar and embraced religion, among them Dr. Mills, a gentleman far advanced in years, who we are told, had been a class-mate of the Bishop.

The Wilson Plaindealer speaks well of the corn crop down in the neighborhood of Pitt county. Unless something very unexpected turns up to change the prospect, persons who may wish to buy corn next year, can find it in old Pitt.

The authorities of Goldsboro offer a reward of $500 for information or evidence to convict the party or parties who fired the Exchange Hotel in that place, and caused the recent disastrous conflagration.

Our friend, C. W. Harris, editor of the Battleboro Advance, has met with a severe loss in the death of his brother, Mr. E. G. Harris, who died in Jones county, on Tuesday of last week. Our bereaved co-laborer has our sympathies.

The Warrenton Gazette says that Geo. W. Harris, a notorious thief and desperado, who for six years, has evaded the vigilance of the law, was captured by the Sheriff of the county on the night of the 24th ult., and lodged in jail.

The Goldsboro Messenger learns that a few evening since, in Johnston county, a white man was waylaid by three negroes, and seriously shot in the head by one of them. The scoundrels then effected their escape leaving their victim to get home as best he could.

The head of the editor of the Goldsboro Messenger is "level." He thinks that the General Assembly has matters of more importance to attend to when it next assembles, than the impeachment of Governor Caldwell, which some extreme partisans declare must be done.

The Star learns that a company of U. S. Troops left Raleigh on Wednesday night of last week for Marion, McDowell county. It is conjectured that they were sent thither for the purpose of protecting (!) the U. S. Court then in session at that place. The Court stood in about as much need of protection as President Grant does at Long Branch.

The Battleboro Advance informs us that a large crowd of negroes from Nash and Edgecombe counties passed through that place last week on their way to Louisiana.

A gentleman recently travelling through Richmond county, says he never saw the like of colored babies; and they are nearly all named Dockery, either for the first or middle name.

From a recent decision of Judge Rodman of the Supreme Court, the Mayor of a city or town, unless he is a magistrate also, is without jurisdiction in criminal cases.

Chas. Wassent, the negro who was shot in Wilmington, in the attempt to garrote and rob Mr. D. H. Russell, is improving, and will probably live to spend a portion of his days in the Penitentiary.

A soldier at Camp Russell, near Raleigh, was one day last week placed in the camp guard-house for some infringement of military rules, and next morning he was found dead in his prison.

The residence of Dr. A. F. Telfair, in Smithfield, Johnston county, caught fire from a foul chimney on the 19th ult., and was destroyed. Most of the furniture was saved, but the loss is about $3,000.

The Border Agricultural Society of Virginia and North Carolina, will hold their next annual Fair at Danville, Va., commencing on Tuesday, October 24th, and continuing for three days. The list of premiums is said to be attractive.

Zack Hogan, one of the colored men wounded recently by the explosion of the boiler of the steamboat R. E. Lee, on the Cape Fear river, has died of his injuries. This makes four killed by the disaster.

The ladies of the Episcopal church at Louisburg, are preparing to give dramatic performances in order to raise funds for the benefit of the church.

A vein of coal has been discovered on the lands of W. B. Crews, Esq., near Oxford, Granville county.

Gov. Caldwell has appointed William Beal, as Agent for the State for the collection of Cherokee bonds.

Trinity College opened for the session on the 18th ult., with 106 students.

A part of the colony which recently settled at Warm Springs, Madison county, has seceded, and purchased lands near Old Fort, McDowell county. It is thought that a flourishing town will grow up at the latter place.

The Vindicator says that "one of the U. S. soldiers stationed at Rutherfordton, captured one of Shelby's fair daughters last week, and brought her to camp." We dare say Shelby was glad enough to get rid of her.

A base-baller killed a little negro in Washington, N. C., the other day, by an accidental stroke of the bat on his head.

The Mountain Messenger says there have been over two hundred rattlesnakes killed in Ashe this summer.

The yellow fever is at Charleston, S. C., and Wilmington, remembering the horrors of 1862, is in a fever of apprehension.

A fiendish murder has come to light at Jamestown, N. Y., and excited no little horror in the community. On the 16th inst., a German brewer named Marlow, enticed a countryman, Wm. Bachmann, of Toledo, Ohio, into the cellar of his brewery, blew his brains out, and destroyed the body by burning it in the furnace. Portions of the bones, and some little articles worn by the victim, such as shirt studs, &c., were found in the ashes. The murder was committed for the sake of obtaining $6,000 which Bachmann had on his person, and the crime was betrayed by a Polish laborer, one Bodinski, who suspected what had been going on. Marlow, with his entire family, is in jail.

Governor Potts, of Montana Territory, informs the government of the threatening attitude of the Indians, near Gallatin valley, the settlers in which are preparing to leave their crops and fly to a safe place at a moment's notice. He asks that troops be sent at once; but his request cannot be complied with. Gen. Grant needs all the troops to secure his nomination and re-election, and the settlers on the frontier must do the best they can to secure their scalps.

It is now stated that Dr. H. T. Helmbold, who recently attempted suicide at Long Branch, is laboring under mental derangement caused by business complications and embarrassments, and his physicians have advised that he be sent to Kirkbride's private insane asylum in Philadelphia. The Doctor's business has been placed in the hands of Mr. J. T. Henry.

The Millerites have ascertained that on next Sunday, Sept. 3rd, the world is to come to an end, and we are all to "go up" or "go down" as the case may be. These poor fanatics have set so many days for the final catastrophe, and been fooled so often, that they ought to be resigned to letting the world wag on a little longer.

A woman passed through one of the streets of New Bedford, Mass., on her knees, a few evenings since. She carried three lighted candles in each hand, and was accompanied by a woman on each side. The ceremony was intended as a religious penance, in fullfillment of a vow for the safe return of her husband from a whaling voyage.

A frightful accident occurred on the Boston & Portland Railroad seven miles from Boston, on the night of the 26th ult., the passenger train having been run into by the Portland lightning express train. Twenty five persons were instantly killed, and some forty or fifty wounded.

Burton C. Cook, radical member of Congress from the 6th Illinois District, has resigned. His majority last year was 2,503. Bad show for a Democrat to succeed him.

A collision took place between a passenger and freight train on the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad, at Westport, Penna., on the 26th ult, by which six persons were killed outright, and some twenty or more injured.

The steamship Lodona was wrecked 75 miles south of St. Augustine, Florida, on the 21st ult. Twenty lives were lost. Twelve persons were saved, all of whom are either officers or crew. The Lodona was an iron-clad, and during the war was a blockade runner.

A violent wind storm occurred in the vicinity of Boston on the 28th ult. Two steeples were blown down in Arlington, and a number of trees prostrated. The neighboring towns also suffered.

Galveston, Texas, papers report that the channel, in front of the wharves in that city, was covered on the morning of the 18th ult., with the floating bodies of thousands of dead fish of the species known as the Spanish mackerel.

The recent storms in the Atlantic have played havoc with the shipping. The eastern coast of Florida is strewed with wrecks, among which are the steamer Lodona, the brigs Pomona, H. W. Welsh and H. G. Berry, and the bark Hilda. All were laden with valuable cargoes of cotton, sugar, molasses and tobacco.

Bowen, the bigamous ex-Congressman, has entered into a contest for the radical nomination for Governor of South Carolina, and appears to have excellent prospects for succeeding. The negroes on the sea-coast are wild for him.

Lexington, Ky., was visited by a terrible conflagration on the morning of the 23rd ult., which destroyed nearly an entire block of buildings in the business portion of the city. Sixteen houses were utterly burned down involving a loss of $100,000.

In Long Island City, on the night of the 22nd ult., fifteen families were burned out of house and home and narrowly escaped with their lives. The fire was caused by a jealous husband who attempted to brain his wife with an axe, and struck a kerosene lamp, breaking it to pieces.

J. H. Hall, postmaster at Stanardsville, Va., was arrested by a special agent of the post-office department, on the 25th ult., charged with feloniously using cancelled postage stamps.

Pedro G. Palacia, son of the Mexican Minister Plenipotentiary to this country was drowned at Fortress Monroe on the 24th inst., while bathing.

Twenty-three persons in the state of Iowa alone, have lost limbs this season by their carelessness in using reaping machines. They take a man's leg off as slick as a whistle.

A train of cars on the New York & Erie Railroad, laden with petroleum, was set on fire by a spark from the locomotive on the 22nd ult., and burned up.

Miss Amanda Harris, a young lady of Columbus, Ohio, fell dead of heart disease on Friday night week, while conversing at the gate of her father's residence with a young man to whom she was about to be married.

The small-pox is at Key West, Florida.

GENERAL NEWS.

On Sunday afternoon last, the steamer Ocean Wave, with an excursion party on board, exploded her boiler and blew up at Point Clear, in Mobile Bay. About two hundred persons were on board of whom nearly one-half were killed or injured. Quite a number were drowned. One family of seven persons, had six killed. The captain, engineer and pilot were killed. About twenty dead and thirty wounded have been brought up to Mobile. It is supposed that at least thirty or forty bodies are still buried among the debris of the wreck, or at the bottom of the bay. Many of the passengers are little children, and scores of hats and bonnets floated ashore to tell of the innocent victims beneath the waves. The scene was appalling to the eye, and heartrending. The frantic cries of the survivors, as they lamented for lost wives, children, parents, sisters and brothers, were agonizing to all who had human sympathies.

It is said that the white radicals of South Carolina, meaning thereby the office-holders, for there are no others, favor the nomination of Ex-Gov. Orr, for Governor, with F. L. Cardozo, the present colored Secretary of State, for Lieut. Governor. The coast negroes, however, are clamorous for Bowen for Governor. On the Democratic side, such honored and respected names as J. B. Kershaw, M. C. Butler and James Conner are mentioned in connection with the gubernatorial nominations.

A Kentucky young lady, shortly before her death, four weeks ago, spoke sadly to a mocking bird which had been her pet, saying, "Don't sing, birdie, you annoy me." The bird's song ceased at once, and though after her death her friends strove to induce it to sing once more, all their efforts were unavailing; refusing food, it pined away, and in a short time it died.

Mr. Greeley and various other leading Republicans at the North have advised that the Republicans let Pennsylvania and Ohio go by default this fall, "so as to secure the defeat of Gen. Grant" in the National Convention. Harper's Weekly is very much disturbed at this, and argues that it evinces such a deep hostility to General Grant as to prefer the defeat of the party to success with Grant. It must be confessed that it looks very like it.

Ben Butler, as usual is giving his political friends trouble. He is afflicted with an ambition to be Governor of Massachusetts, but the decent people of the State don't want him. The Boston Advertiser emphatically tells him he is a first class fraud, and says: He entirely lacks the confidence of Republicans, whose good-will we cannot afford to sacrifice." We like the looks of things; if Benjamin is tossed overboard by the rads, he will make it thunder in their ears.

Gen. McCook, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio, has been compelled by ill health to suspend his canvass of the State. His physicians say his system is so prostrated by his labors during the intensely hot weather of the past few weeks, as to make rest absolutely necessary. The lying radicals take advantage of his prostration to insinuate that he is slightly insane!

The bulk of the wealth of San Francisco, Cal., is divided up among about 125 men. Of these, 51 possess fortunes varying between $1,000,000 and $10,000,000; 10 subsist on $750,000, and 61 own up to $500,000 and upwards. Of the poorer class, ranging between $50,000 and $500,000, no record is given.

The Philadelphia Press, radical, admits that the use of the Custom House at New Orleans by Grant's office-holders as a place for their political Convention, and the employment of federal troops to keep out the Republican delegates who were opposed to Grant's renomination, was authorized by the President himself. Think of that.

A fire broke out in Amboy, Illinois, on the morning of the 25th ult., which destroyed nearly all the business houses on both sides of the Main street. Loss about $200,000. One of the prisoners in the town jail was burned to death before assistance could reach him.

A colored member of the South Carolina Legislature has sued a colored barber in Charleston for damages, for refusing to shave him. The knight of the razor told him that "his shop was for white gentlemen only," and this raised the law-maker's Ebenezer.

Some burglars, even more infamous than the usual run of such villains, broke into St. John's Chapel, in Savannah, Geo., a few nights ago, and stole the Sunday School library of 150 volumes, and all the books belonging to the pulpit and altar, including a large Bible, four prayer books and two altar service books.

The rabbi of a Jewish synagogue in Chicago, was recently dragged from the pulpit by his congregation and expelled from the building, because he had broken one of the holy fasts of the Hebrew religion by eating a plate of ice cream on the previous day.

Horace Greeley says, with melencholy emphasis, "there is a general feeling that the Grant family is too large." That is, it is too large for a family, but not large enough for a party. And yet the family is breaking down the party.

Foreign.

Fearful misery prevails in southern Hungary. At Banat, one-third of the country is under water. In consequence of bad administration the dams were suffered to fall into ruin, and thus the extensive tracts of land reclaimed during the reign of the Great Empress, Maria Theresa, and made fruittul with green fields, have become flooded. Added to this are the unusual storms this season, and the severity of the government in collecting arrears of taxes. The hail-storms have destroyed garden fruits, vineyards and grain-fields. The government is seizing for taxes the cattle of the peasants. Some of the villages owe arrears greater than the value of the whole property. Agriculture, trade, and industry in general are ruined, and a famine is impending.

The Levant Herald of the latest date asserts that the famine and pestilence in Persia are worse than ever; that there have been 27,000 victims in Ispahan alone; that the crops have been destroyed, and that one-third of the population has been annihilated. Ispahan was formerly the capital of the Persian emperors, and had a population estimated at 1,100,000; but for the past century and a half it has steadily declined in importance, until its population did not number over 80,000 or 100,000.

The manufacture of sugar in Liberia for the last season amounted to 300,000 pounds, the coffee crop to 35,000 pounds, while 20 tons of arrow-root and 10,000 pounds of ginger have been prepared for use and export.

WINSTON COUNCIL, No. 100,
FRIENDS OF TEMPERANCE,
August 16th, 1871.

WHEREAS, Almighty God, in His inscrutable wisdom, has seen fit to call from the labors and sorrows of earth to the joys of Heaven, our highly esteemed and beloved brother, Isaac S. Gibson, who died suddenly, at his residence in this place, Monday morning the 14th inst.; whereas, Brother Gibson was a good and acceptable member of this Council, a deeply pious man, greatly beloved by "saint and sinner," his efficient labors and exemplary walk during his long stay among us, endearing him to our hearts, and, whereas, being also a member of the ancient Order of the "Sons of Temperance," he was ever found not only a son of Temperance, but as a friend of Temperance, laboring for the advancement of his cause. Now therefore, be it

Resolved, 1st. As Official members and brothers, deprived of a brother, feeling deeply our great loss, we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well; knowing that while we are called to mourn the loss of one so much beloved and esteemed, that our loss is his eternal gain.

Resolved, 2nd. That we tender our earnest sympathy to his afflicted family and relatives in the sore bereavement which in the Order of an All Wise Providence, they have been called to sustain by his death.

Resolved, 3rd. That this Council, as a further mark of respect, wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Brother Gibson died like a Christian hero. Truly may it be said, "The place where the good man meets his fate, is above the common privilege of mankind, quite within the verge of Heaven."

May Almighty God sanctify this afflictive dispensation of His Providence to the good of his bereaved family, the cause of Temperance, and this whole community in which he lived, labored and died.

Resolved, 4th. That a copy of these Resolutions be put upon our Council record, a copy sent to the bereaved family, and copies furnished the Friend of Temperance News, Western Sentinel and Salem Press for publication.

for the purpose of receiving from the tax payers of Forsyth County their State and County taxes for the year 1871, when and where all persons interested are invited to meet me and pay their taxes, as I cannot give indulgence and will be compelled to collect by distress, as I will have to pay over the State taxes in a short time after canvassing the county. There are also numerous claims against the county that will have to be paid off immediately, as the parties are needing the money and are pressing for payment.

I further give notice that I hold the tax-book for 1871, as made out by the Clerk, for inspection. All persons are requested to inform me of any persons who have failed to list their property as the law requires, so that I may be enabled to deal with them as the law requires of me in all cases where persons fail to list. ASSIGNEE'S SALE.

ON TUESDAY OCTOBER 3rd, 1871, I will sell, as Assignee of Vogler & Co., at the Store formerly occupied by E. A. Vogler, in the town of Salem, Forsyth County, N. C., all the real and personal estate of Vogler & Co., and E. A Vogler.

The real estate consists of that desirable and valuable Store and Dwelling, House and Lot, in Salem, known on the plot of Salem as No. 63, where E. A. Vogler formerly carried on business. This lot will be divided North and South, leaving a good Tenement House and Lot on the West end. One House and Lot on the opposite corner, known on the town plot as No. 27, a desirable place for business or for a dwelling, both lying in the centre of the town and close to the Salem Female Academy, Post Office and Hotel.

Four Lots on Marshall street, Nos. 232, 233, 234, 235 all well improved for truck farming and excellent lots for building.

One tract of 175 acres of land within one mile of town known as "SUNNY SIDE," on the waters of Middle Fork, adjoining Leigh, Clemmons, Winkler and others. This tract has excellent BUILDINGS, conveniently arranged, a good Well near the House and Barns, and is on the whole, a finer property than is usually offered.

One tract of land on the waters of Middle Fork or Wachovia creek, containing about 28 acres, a great portion meadow, adjoining David Spaugh, A. N. Reich and others.

One House and Lot on the old Plank Road, between Salem and Waughtown, now occupied by Joseph Walker.

Also a tract of 4 acres on the Salisbury road where Tim Fishel formerly lived, on which E. A. Vogler has a claim.

The personal property consists of a lot of STORE GOODS, including

DRY GOODS,

HARDWARE, CROCKERY, GLASS, &c., &c., &c.

A LARGE LOT OF

SHOES,

(OVER 2,000 PAIR,)

SHOE-FINDINGS and MACHINERY,

Farming Tools,

and a great deal of property too tedious to enumerate.

Persons desirous of bidding on any of the real estate can get any information by applying to me or to A. F. Pfohl, who will be at the store.

As the sale will take place at the store in Salem, any one wishing to bid will do well to examine the property beforehand.

The real estate will be sold first, commencing at 1 o'clock, P. M., Oct. 3rd, 1871, and the sale will continue from day to day until all the property is sold.

Threshing Machines,

MOWING and REAPING MACHINES.

I have secured the Agency for the sale of the best and most improved Threshing Machines not heretofore brought into this part of the country, called

"THE SWEEPSTAKES,"

The Farmer's long and well-tried Friend.

It is a thresher and cleaner combined, now extensively used throughout the Western States, furnished geared or belted,—is mounted on wheels,—needs no loading and unloading,—claims to clean thoroughly, loses no grain, and injures none.

I can also furnish the POWERS mounted on wheels, thus saving all heavy lifting. Intended for 4 or 6 horses, Lever Power.

Persons wishing a new Machine should by all means examine into the merits of the SWEEPSTAKES

ALSO

The Improved Buck-Eye Mower

AND

BUCK-EYE MOWER and REAPER

With Dropper or Self-Rake Attachment.

This Machine has been much improved and the price reduced. It now has a Self-Rake attachment, with side delivery. The Buck-Eye was tried last Fall at a number of State Fairs in the West with from 14 to 20 other Machines, and took the highest premiums. Will cut over one acre of grain or grass per hour.

Over 100,000 of the Buck-Eye now in use in the United States.

I can sell them now at less price than heretofore, and for less than others are now offered at.

A part of the colony which recently settled at Warm Springs, Madison county, has seceded, and purchased lands near Old Fort, McDowell county. It is thought that a flourishing town will grow up at the latter place.

The Vindicator says that "one of the U. S. soldiers stationed at Rutherfordton, captured one of Shelby's fair daughters last week, and brought her to camp." We dare say Shelby was glad enough to get rid of her.

A base-baller killed a little negro in Washington, N. C., the other day, by an accidental stroke of the bat on his head.

The Mountain Messenger says there have been over two hundred rattlesnakes killed in Ashe this summer.

The yellow fever is at Charleston, S. C., and Wilmington, remembering the horrors of 1862, is in a fever of apprehension.

A fiendish murder has come to light at Jamestown, N. Y., and excited no little horror in the community. On the 16th inst., a German brewer named Marlow, enticed a countryman, Wm. Bachmann, of Toledo, Ohio, into the cellar of his brewery, blew his brains out, and destroyed the body by burning it in the furnace. Portions of the bones, and some little articles worn by the victim, such as shirt studs, &c., were found in the ashes. The murder was committed for the sake of obtaining $6,000 which Bachmann had on his person, and the crime was betrayed by a Polish laborer, one Bodinski, who suspected what had been going on. Marlow, with his entire family, is in jail.

Governor Potts, of Montana Territory, informs the government of the threatening attitude of the Indians, near Gallatin valley, the settlers in which are preparing to leave their crops and fly to a safe place at a moment's notice. He asks that troops be sent at once; but his request cannot be complied with. Gen. Grant needs all the troops to secure his nomination and re-election, and the settlers on the frontier must do the best they can to secure their scalps.

It is now stated that Dr. H. T. Helmbold, who recently attempted suicide at Long Branch, is laboring under mental derangement caused by business complications and embarrassments, and his physicians have advised that he be sent to Kirkbride's private insane asylum in Philadelphia. The Doctor's business has been placed in the hands of Mr. J. T. Henry.

The Millerites have ascertained that on next Sunday, Sept. 3rd, the world is to come to an end, and we are all to "go up" or "go down" as the case may be. These poor fanatics have set so many days for the final catastrophe, and been fooled so often, that they ought to be resigned to letting the world wag on a little longer.

A woman passed through one of the streets of New Bedford, Mass., on her knees, a few evenings since. She carried three lighted candles in each hand, and was accompanied by a woman on each side. The ceremony was intended as a religious penance, in fullfillment of a vow for the safe return of her husband from a whaling voyage.

A frightful accident occurred on the Boston & Portland Railroad seven miles from Boston, on the night of the 26th ult., the passenger train having been run into by the Portland lightning express train. Twenty five persons were instantly killed, and some forty or fifty wounded.

Burton C. Cook, radical member of Congress from the 6th Illinois District, has resigned. His majority last year was 2,503. Bad show for a Democrat to succeed him.

A collision took place between a passenger and freight train on the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad, at Westport, Penna., on the 26th ult, by which six persons were killed outright, and some twenty or more injured.

The steamship Lodona was wrecked 75 miles south of St. Augustine, Florida, on the 21st ult. Twenty lives were lost. Twelve persons were saved, all of whom are either officers or crew. The Lodona was an iron-clad, and during the war was a blockade runner.

A violent wind storm occurred in the vicinity of Boston on the 28th ult. Two steeples were blown down in Arlington, and a number of trees prostrated. The neighboring towns also suffered.

Galveston, Texas, papers report that the channel, in front of the wharves in that city, was covered on the morning of the 18th ult., with the floating bodies of thousands of dead fish of the species known as the Spanish mackerel.

The recent storms in the Atlantic have played havoc with the shipping. The eastern coast of Florida is strewed with wrecks, among which are the steamer Lodona, the brigs Pomona, H. W. Welsh and H. G. Berry, and the bark Hilda. All were laden with valuable cargoes of cotton, sugar, molasses and tobacco.

Bowen, the bigamous ex-Congressman, has entered into a contest for the radical nomination for Governor of South Carolina, and appears to have excellent prospects for succeeding. The negroes on the sea-coast are wild for him.

Lexington, Ky., was visited by a terrible conflagration on the morning of the 23rd ult., which destroyed nearly an entire block of buildings in the business portion of the city. Sixteen houses were utterly burned down involving a loss of $100,000.

In Long Island City, on the night of the 22nd ult., fifteen families were burned out of house and home and narrowly escaped with their lives. The fire was caused by a jealous husband who attempted to brain his wife with an axe, and struck a kerosene lamp, breaking it to pieces.

J. H. Hall, postmaster at Stanardsville, Va., was arrested by a special agent of the post-office department, on the 25th ult., charged with feloniously using cancelled postage stamps.

Pedro G. Palacia, son of the Mexican Minister Plenipotentiary to this country was drowned at Fortress Monroe on the 24th inst., while bathing.

Twenty-three persons in the state of Iowa alone, have lost limbs this season by their carelessness in using reaping machines. They take a man's leg off as slick as a whistle.

A train of cars on the New York & Erie Railroad, laden with petroleum, was set on fire by a spark from the locomotive on the 22nd ult., and burned up.

Miss Amanda Harris, a young lady of Columbus, Ohio, fell dead of heart disease on Friday night week, while conversing at the gate of her father's residence with a young man to whom she was about to be married.

The small-pox is at Key West, Florida.

GENERAL NEWS.

On Sunday afternoon last, the steamer Ocean Wave, with an excursion party on board, exploded her boiler and blew up at Point Clear, in Mobile Bay. About two hundred persons were on board of whom nearly one-half were killed or injured. Quite a number were drowned. One family of seven persons, had six killed. The captain, engineer and pilot were killed. About twenty dead and thirty wounded have been brought up to Mobile. It is supposed that at least thirty or forty bodies are still buried among the debris of the wreck, or at the bottom of the bay. Many of the passengers are little children, and scores of hats and bonnets floated ashore to tell of the innocent victims beneath the waves. The scene was appalling to the eye, and heartrending. The frantic cries of the survivors, as they lamented for lost wives, children, parents, sisters and brothers, were agonizing to all who had human sympathies.

It is said that the white radicals of South Carolina, meaning thereby the office-holders, for there are no others, favor the nomination of Ex-Gov. Orr, for Governor, with F. L. Cardozo, the present colored Secretary of State, for Lieut. Governor. The coast negroes, however, are clamorous for Bowen for Governor. On the Democratic side, such honored and respected names as J. B. Kershaw, M. C. Butler and James Conner are mentioned in connection with the gubernatorial nominations.

A Kentucky young lady, shortly before her death, four weeks ago, spoke sadly to a mocking bird which had been her pet, saying, "Don't sing, birdie, you annoy me." The bird's song ceased at once, and though after her death her friends strove to induce it to sing once more, all their efforts were unavailing; refusing food, it pined away, and in a short time it died.

Mr. Greeley and various other leading Republicans at the North have advised that the Republicans let Pennsylvania and Ohio go by default this fall, "so as to secure the defeat of Gen. Grant" in the National Convention. Harper's Weekly is very much disturbed at this, and argues that it evinces such a deep hostility to General Grant as to prefer the defeat of the party to success with Grant. It must be confessed that it looks very like it.

Ben Butler, as usual is giving his political friends trouble. He is afflicted with an ambition to be Governor of Massachusetts, but the decent people of the State don't want him. The Boston Advertiser emphatically tells him he is a first class fraud, and says: He entirely lacks the confidence of Republicans, whose good-will we cannot afford to sacrifice." We like the looks of things; if Benjamin is tossed overboard by the rads, he will make it thunder in their ears.

Gen. McCook, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio, has been compelled by ill health to suspend his canvass of the State. His physicians say his system is so prostrated by his labors during the intensely hot weather of the past few weeks, as to make rest absolutely necessary. The lying radicals take advantage of his prostration to insinuate that he is slightly insane!

The bulk of the wealth of San Francisco, Cal., is divided up among about 125 men. Of these, 51 possess fortunes varying between $1,000,000 and $10,000,000; 10 subsist on $750,000, and 61 own up to $500,000 and upwards. Of the poorer class, ranging between $50,000 and $500,000, no record is given.

The Philadelphia Press, radical, admits that the use of the Custom House at New Orleans by Grant's office-holders as a place for their political Convention, and the employment of federal troops to keep out the Republican delegates who were opposed to Grant's renomination, was authorized by the President himself. Think of that.

A fire broke out in Amboy, Illinois, on the morning of the 25th ult., which destroyed nearly all the business houses on both sides of the Main street. Loss about $200,000. One of the prisoners in the town jail was burned to death before assistance could reach him.

A colored member of the South Carolina Legislature has sued a colored barber in Charleston for damages, for refusing to shave him. The knight of the razor told him that "his shop was for white gentlemen only," and this raised the law-maker's Ebenezer.

Some burglars, even more infamous than the usual run of such villains, broke into St. John's Chapel, in Savannah, Geo., a few nights ago, and stole the Sunday School library of 150 volumes, and all the books belonging to the pulpit and altar, including a large Bible, four prayer books and two altar service books.

The rabbi of a Jewish synagogue in Chicago, was recently dragged from the pulpit by his congregation and expelled from the building, because he had broken one of the holy fasts of the Hebrew religion by eating a plate of ice cream on the previous day.

Horace Greeley says, with melencholy emphasis, "there is a general feeling that the Grant family is too large." That is, it is too large for a family, but not large enough for a party. And yet the family is breaking down the party.

The small-pox is prevailing among the colored people in the neighborhood of Yorktown, Va., but it has not appeared among the whites.

The New York Board of Health has directed a quarantine of thirty days for vessels from all parts infected with yellow-fever, cholera, &c.

A destructive fire in St. Louis on the night of the 22nd ult., destroyed seven brick buildings, several frame ones and a stable. Loss about $40,000.

The largest fire that ever occurred in Ithaca, N. Y., broke out on the night of the 22nd ult. The Ithaca Hotel and several blocks of houses were destroyed. Loss about $100,000.

The New York Herald's latest sensation in the way of Presidential candidates, is to bring out the name of Hon. Wm. H. Seward for a Conservative-Republican nomination.

A man and his wife who had separated eight years ago, and had not met in all that time, recently encountered each other in a police court in Chicago, both charged with drunkenness.

The bats in Wisconsin kill sheep. One farmer has lost 300 by them. The bats are said to perch upon the neck of the animal, and suck his blood.

Thirty-three members of a Connecticut cavalry company are now visiting the great battle fields in Virginia.

The Ohio penitentiary contains at present 1,020 prisoners, of whom only 32 are females.

Foreign.

Fearful misery prevails in southern Hungary. At Banat, one-third of the country is under water. In consequence of bad administration the dams were suffered to fall into ruin, and thus the extensive tracts of land reclaimed during the reign of the Great Empress, Maria Theresa, and made fruitful with green fields, have become flooded. Added to this are the unusual storms this season, and the severity of the government in collecting arrears of taxes. The hail-storms have destroyed garden fruits, vineyards and grain-fields. The government is seizing for taxes the cattle of the peasants. Some of the villages owe arrears greater than the value of the whole property. Agriculture, trade, and industry in general are ruined, and a famine is impending.

The Levant Herald of the latest date asserts that the famine and pestilence in Persia are worse than ever; that there have been 27,000 victims in Ispahan alone; that the crops have been destroyed, and that one-third of the population has been annihilated. Ispahan was formerly the capital of the Persian emperors, and had a population estimated at 1,100,000; but for the past century and a half it has steadily declined in importance, until its population did not number over 80,000 or 100,000.

The manufacture of sugar in Liberia for the last season amounted to 300,000 pounds, the coffee crop to 35,000 pounds, while 20 tons of arrow-root and 10,000 pounds of ginger have been prepared for use and export.

Great preparations are being made in Canada to receive the Marquis of Lorne and his wife, the Princess Louise. It is now almost certain that the Marquis will be appointed Governor-General of Canada. The pair are expected to arrive at Montreal in October.

The cholera has reached Berlin, in Prussia. Four cases were reported on the 23rd ult., two of which were fatal.

The sugar and tobacco crops in Hayti are both large. All the warehouses are crammed with tobacco, and quantities are piled up in the streets awaiting shipment.

WINSTON COUNCIL, No. 100, FRIENDS OF TEMPERANCE, August 16th, 1871.

WHEREAS, Almighty God, in His inscrutable wisdom, has seen fit to call from the labors and sorrows of earth to the joys of Heaven, our highly esteemed and beloved brother, Isaac S. Gibson, who died suddenly, at his residence in this place, Monday morning the 14th inst.; whereas, Brother Gibson was a good and acceptable member of this Council, a deeply pious man, greatly beloved by "saint and sinner," his efficient labors and exemplary walk during his long stay among us, endearing him to our hearts, and, whereas, being also a member of the ancient Order of the "Sons of Temperance," he was ever found not only a son of Temperance, but as a friend of Temperance, laboring for the advancement of his cause. Now therefore, be it

Resolved, 1st. As Official members and brothers, deprived of a brother, feeling deeply our great loss, we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well; knowing that while we are called to mourn the loss of one so much beloved and esteemed, that our loss is his eternal gain.

Resolved, 2nd. That we tender our earnest sympathy to his afflicted family and relatives in the sore bereavement which in the Order of an All Wise Providence, they have been called to sustain by his death.

Resolved, 3rd. That this Council, as a further mark of respect, wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Brother Gibson died like a Christian hero. Truly may it be said, "The place where the good man meets his fate, is above the common privilege of mankind, quite within the verge of Heaven."

May Almighty God sanctify this afflictive dispensation of His Providence to the good of his bereaved family, the cause of Temperance, and this whole community in which he lived, labored and died.

Resolved, 4th. That a copy of these Resolutions be put upon our Council record, a copy sent to the bereaved family, and copies furnished the Friend of Temperance News, Western Sentinel and Salem Press for publication.

for the purpose of receiving from the tax payers of Forsyth County their State and County taxes for the year 1871, when and where all persons interested are invited to meet me and pay their taxes, as I cannot give indulgence and will be compelled to collect by distress, as I will have to pay over the State taxes in a short time after canvassing the county. There are also numerous claims against the county that will have to be paid off immediately, as the parties are needing the money and are pressing for payment.

I further give notice that I hold the tax-book for 1871, as made out by the Clerk, for inspection. All persons are requested to inform me of any persons who have failed to list their property as the law requires, so that I may be enabled to deal with them as the law requires of me in all cases where persons fail to list. M. MASTEN, Sheriff.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.

ON TUESDAY OCTOBER 3rd, 1871, I will sell, as Assignee of Vogler & Co., at the Store formerly occupied by E. A. Vogler, in the town of Salem, Forsyth County, N. C., all the real and personal estate of Vogler & Co., and E. A Vogler.

The real estate consists of that desirable and valuable Store and Dwelling, House and Lot, in Salem, known on the plot of Salem as No. 63, where E. A. Vogler formerly carried on business. This lot will be divided North and South, leaving a good Tenement House and Lot on the West end. One House and Lot on the opposite corner, known on the town plot as No. 27, a desirable place for business or for a dwelling, both lying in the centre of the town and close to the Salem Female Academy, Post Office and Hotel.

Four Lots on Marshall street, Nos. 232, 233, 234, 235 all well improved for truck farming and excellent lots for building.

One tract of 175 acres of land within one mile of town known as "SUNNY SIDE," on the waters of Middle Fork, adjoining Leigh, Clemmons, Winkler and others. This tract has excellent BUILDINGS, conveniently arranged, a good Well near the House and Barns, and is on the whole, a finer property than is usually offered.

One tract of land on the waters of Middle Fork or Wachovia creek, containing about 28 acres, a great portion meadow, adjoining David Spaugh, A. N. Reich and others.

One House and Lot on the old Plank Road, between Salem and Waughtown, now occupied by Joseph Walker.

Also a tract of 4 acres on the Salisbury road where Tim Fishel formerly lived, on which E. A. Vogler has a claim.

The personal property consists of a lot of STORE GOODS, including

DRY GOODS,

HARDWARE, CROCKERY, GLASS, &c., &c., &c.

A LARGE LOT OF

SHOES,

(OVER 2,000 PAIR,)

SHOE-FINDINGS and MACHINERY,

Farming Tools,

and a great deal of property too tedious to enumerate.

Persons desirous of bidding on any of the real estate can get any information by applying to me or to A. F. Pfohl, who will be at the store.

As the sale will take place at the store in Salem, any one wishing to bid will do well to examine the property beforehand.

The real estate will be sold first, commencing at 1 o'clock, P. M., Oct. 3rd, 1871, and the sale will continue from day to day until all the property is sold.

TERMS CASH.

Threshing Machines,

MOWING and REAPING MACHINES.

I have secured the Agency for the sale of the best and most improved Threshing Machines not heretofore brought into this part of the country, called

"THE SWEEPSTAKES,"

The Farmer's long and well-tried Friend.

It is a thresher and cleaner combined, now extensively used throughout the Western States, furnished geared or belted,—is mounted on wheels,—needs no loading and unloading,—claims to clean thoroughly, loses no grain, and injures none.

I can also furnish the POWERS mounted on wheels, thus saving all heavy lifting. Intended for 4 or 6 horses, Lever Power.

Persons wishing a new Machine should by all means examine into the merits of the SWEEPSTAKES

ALSO

The Improved Buck-Eye Mower

AND

BUCK-EYE MOWER and REAPER

With Dropper or Self-Rake Attachment.

This Machine has been much improved and the price reduced. It now has a Self-Rake attachment, with side delivery. The Buck-Eye was tried last Fall at a number of State Fairs in the West with from 14 to 20 other Machines, and took the highest premiums. Will cut over one acre of grain or grass per hour.

Over 100,000 of the Buck-Eye now in use in the United States.

I can sell them now at less price than heretofore, and for less than others are now offered at.

The Old Clock.

It has ticked with the bell
That a wedding could tell,
It has ticked, keeping time with the song,
It has ticked at the birth
Of a soul brought to earth,
To battle and grow with the strong.

It has ticked through the night,
When the small shaded light,
Saw the weary, fond watchers above,
With the breath dying fast,
Ere the life-'ease was past,
Of a parent or child whom they love.

It has ticked to the tread
As they carried the dead
Thro' the old-fashioned hall-way and door,
And it ticked right along,
Just as steady and strong,
When the funeral service was o'er.

'Tis an honest old hand,
With a dingy brass band,
Tracing round the old dial each day;
But it seems to foretell,
With a mystic spell,
How swiftly our lives pass away.

'Tis an heir-loom at best,
Looking out with the rest,
Of our modern apparel and wear;
With its wondering gaze,
At the present odd ways,
Of the new generation and fare.

There's a problem to solve,
As the hands slow revolve,
Whether modern folks, manners and all,
Are as true and as good,
As the old folks so rude,
Whose hands placed the clock on the wall.

JURUBEBA.

WHAT IS IT?

It is a sure and perfect remedy for all diseases of the LIVER AND SPLEEN, ENLARGEMENT OR OBSTRUCTION OF INTESTINES, URINARY, UTERINE, OR ABDOMINAL ORGANS, POVERTY OR A WANT OF BLOOD, INTERMITTENT OR REMITTENT FEVERS, INFLAMMATION OF THE LIVER, DROPSY, SLUGGISH CIRCULATION OF THE BLOOD, ABSCESSES TUMORS, JAUNDICE, SCROFULA, DYSPEPSIA, AGUE AND FEVER AND THEIR CONCOMITANTS

DR. WELLS having become aware of the extraordinary medicinal properties of the South American plant called sent a special commission to that country to procure it in its native purity, and having found its wonderful curative properties to even exceed the anticipations formed by its great reputation, has concluded to offer it to the public, and is happy to state that he has made arrangements for a regular monthly supply of this wonderful Plant. He has spent much time experimenting and investigating as to the most efficient preparation from it, for popular use, and has for some time used in his own practice with most happy results the effectual medicine now presented to the public as

and he confidently recommends it to every family as a household remedy which should be freely taken as a BLOOD PURIFIER in all derangements of the system and to animate and fortify all weak and Lymphatic temperaments. JOHN Q. KELLOGG, Platt St. New York.

VINEGAR BITTERS

VEGETABLE — FREE FROM — ALCOHOL — CALIFORNIA — PURELY — DR. WALKER'S — EUREKA

VINEGAR BITTERS

J. WALKER, Proprietor. R. H. MCDONALD & Co., Druggists and Gen. Ag'ts, San Francisco, Cal., and 32 and 34 Commerce st., N.Y.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and of all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed or sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

Old prejudices are dying out. New facts are killing them. The idea that invalids, weakened by disease, can be relieved by prostrating them on with destructive drugs, is no longer entertained except by monomaniacs. Ever since the introduction of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, it has been obvious that their regulating and invigorating properties are all-sufficient for the cure of chronic indigestion, rheumatism, constipation, diarrhœa, nervous affections and malarious fevers, and they are now the standard remedy for these complaints in every section of the Union.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

SPRING & SUMMER CAMPAIGN.

SPECIAL NOTICE!

An increasing trade has induced us to purchase a LARGER STOCK OF GOODS than usual, and to add to it many new attractions.. We have adopted as our rule in business:

"QUICK SALE and SHORT PROFITS,"

Hoping, by a frequent turn of our money, to realize the same profit that slow merchants expect from selling one or two purchases a year. Trusting in this way to reward ourselves, we give the benefit of short profits to our customers.

We believe that our accumulated stock will prove ample for the wants of our trade. If mistaken, we shall order from the most reliable business houses in the northern cities, until the needs of all our customers are supplied.

The decline in many articles of merchandise warrants us in promising

LOW PRICES.

DRY GOODS:

Prints of every style and price, DeLaines, Challies, Lawns, Linen Lawns, Piques, Alpacas, Gros Grain and Japanese Silks and other late styles of Dress Goods. Swiss Muslins, in large supply, Nainsook, Mull Muslin, Brilliants, &c. A very full assortment of Brown and Bleached Muslins, Tickings, Drills, and Linen Goods.

For Gentlemen's Wear:—Elegant Black Doeskin, Fancy Cassimeres, Cottonades, Linen Duck, "Fries' Jeans," including a new and beautiful style of Tweeds now being manufactured. Also a well selected stock of READY MADE CLOTHING, both in Wool and Linen.

NOTIONS.

A larger stock than ever. Our line of Hosiery, Gloves, Veils, Trimmings, Laces, Edgings and Insertings, and Fancy Goods of all kinds cannot be excelled.

We invite the attention of the ladies to our splendid line of Corsets, seamless Kid Gloves, &c.

☞ Call and examine our stock.

BOOTS & SHOES

In this department, we have devoted much time and labor to the selection of Ladies' Fine Shoes. We believe that we can sell a better shoe for less money than can be bought elsewhere. We have every variety of Lace, Button and Congress Gaiters, and an excellent assortment of Morocco and other Leather Shoes.

For Gentlemen we have a full assortment of Boots and Shoes including the celebrated "Burt Gaiter." Also Misses, Boys' and Children's Shoes in good supply.

HATS.

A better assortment than we have ever kept. Fur, Wool, Silk und Straw suitable for old men, young men, plain men, fancy men, and all sorts of boys.

Drugs and Dyestuffs,

SOAPS AND PERFUMERY, QUEEN AND GLASSWARE, HOLLOWWARE, Iron, Nails, &c., in full supply and at low figures.

HARDWARE.

If you wish Table Cutlery, Pocket Knives, Mechanic's Tools, Farmer's Tools, and Agricultural Implements, Building Materials, Mill Saws, Carriage and Saddlery Hardware, Shoe Findings, Cherry Seeders, Horse and Mule Shoes, &c., call upon us, and we will supply you.

GROCERIES.

We make a specialty of these Goods.

In Sugars, Teas, Coffees, Spices and like articles, we fear no Competition

OUR HOUSE shall remain "HEADQUARTERS" in the Groceryline.

We call particular attention to above partial enumeration of our stock.

We are agents for the Louderback & Smith's "Rustic Window Shades." They are cheap, convenient and durable, and are better than either the oiled or paper shades. They have had a large sale wherever introduced.

We shall strive earnestly to give satisfaction in all branches of our business, and hope that no customer will have to leave our house to make purchases elsewhere.

Feeling grateful for our past trade and hopeful for its increase in the future, we wish for our Farmers,—"the bone and sinew" of the land,—the most abundant crops, and for all classes good health and increased prosperity.

CROOK'S WINE OF TAR

Throat and Lungs.

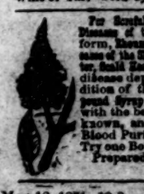
For ten years Dr. Crook's Wine of Tar has been tested and proved in thousands of cases, capable of curing all Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, performing wonderful cures. Will you let prejudice prevent you from being cured also?

DR. CROOK'S WINE OF TAR is rich in the medicinal qualities of Tar, combined with vegetable ingredients of undoubted value. It rapidly restores exhausted strength, cleanses the Stomach, relaxes the Liver and puts them to work, causes the food to digest, and makes pure blood. If you are afflicted in any way, we know the life-giving toning properties of Dr. Crook's Wine of Tar, are what you need.

It cures all Coughs and Colds, and its many wonderful cures of Asthma and Bronchitis, have caused many to call it a specific for these complaints. Throat ailments require but a few doses. All suffering from Consumption or any Disease of the Lungs should remember that Dr. Crook's Wine of Tar has cured many cases pronounced incurable.

The Weak and Debilitated should remember it restores and invigorates the system, and is health-giving and appetite-restoring.

It also cures Liver and Kidney Complaints, and by its healthy action on the Stomach, removes Dyspepsia. Try one bottle. Take only Dr. Crook's Wine of Tar. Sold by Druggists.



For Scrofula, Scrofulous Tumors, Scrofulous Diseases of the Eyes, or Scrofula in any form, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver, Diseases of the Skin, Eruptions, Pimples, Boils, Tetter, Scald Head, Worms, and all forms, or any disease depending on a depraved condition of the blood, take Dr. Crook's Compound Syrup of John Bull. It is combined with the best tonic preparations of iron known, and is the best Alterative and Blood Purifier made. Cleanse your blood. Try one Bottle. Sold by Druggists.
